

Lars

I've also begun to make up a new language, having mastered all of the existing ones...

After scaling Mount Everest
I decided to donate my Nobel Prize money to starving children in Africa.

Hey Filancis,
what have you been up to?

Hello, Lars.
The usual
I suppose...

But enough about me, old friend!
What have YOU been doing?

Well, yesterday I ate almost a whole pizza
in one sitting_

Sorry, I didn't mean to brag.
